Having co-ordinated and managed over 400 unforgettable weddings, their internationally experienced team and network of the finest service providers, helps achieve everything their clients ever dreamed of and more...

Affluence Magazine are excited to share one of their most exclusive real-life destination wedding celebrations. Wedding Concepts' founder and MD Christina Holt has given us an exclusive behind the scene view of how she and her team have designed and managed some of Africa's most lavish celebrations for their clients.

For Nigerians, Kiki and Sam, it was evident from the very beginning that style comes naturally to this sophisticated couple. Their effortless chic and glitzy zest for life was all the Wedding Concepts team needed as inspiration to translate this into a designer destination wedding. The Cape Winelands were the perfect setting to play host for their 180 guests that flew into Cape Town from the United Kingdom and Lagos!

The couple wanted their wedding to reflect sophistication, design elegance and a touch of glamour. From the selecting one of the most exquisite modern venues to the incredibly unique entrance made by the groom arriving to the ceremony by helicopter. The bride, not to be outdone, arrived in a glistening silver Rolls Royce Phantom.

The true glamour however was only revealed to guests after pre-drinks – where the entire reception space had been beautifully draped, including a dramatic “curtain reveal” of the magnificent and opulent reception space. With lavish crystal chandeliers were suspended amongst the venues collection to add even more dazzling lighting along with pink intelligent lighting, and a customised gobo of the couples initials which projected onto the dance floor and drapery to add even more luxury to the ambience. The real show stopper was the Bridal Stage. The couples' designer white leather armchairs were encircled by masses of colourful rose petals arranged in a dreamy paisley pattern. Nigerian Dj, who had been specially flown in by the Wedding Concepts team, took over the decks. With his mind-blowing sets of world music combined with the setting, luxurious décor and dazzling lighting features, this chic Wedding Concepts wedding more than conquered the world's designer wedding stage!
